Around Town

Sudbury

During the summer and fall of 1984-1985 many stores and shopping centers were added to Sudbury's Route 20. These stores provide work for many of the town's teenagers and are very convenient for residents, who formerly had to go to other towns to shop. However, the stores have also caused severe traffic problems on Route 20 and it is uncertain as to whether the formerly small town of Sudbury will be capable of handling the problems that accompany urbanization.

The 1984-1985 school year has proved to be one of many changes. With the increasing support of the student body, the Student Senate helped to shorten homeroom from ten to five minutes. Several new administrative policies have been implemented, for example, the new unit system. Some students might argue that the unit system is not a change at all, for, with the exception of the freshmen having their own unit, nothing has changed. As a result of a food fight in the cafeteria early this year, the ramp was shut down and has not as yet been reopened. A car accident involving several L-S students in November made the threat of a closed campus a major issue in school. Some low points of this year were the behavior of the students at the nuclear weapon debate and the hospitalization of Mr. Murphy. Students have begun to take an interest in world issues, donating almost $2,000 to Oxfam this year and showing their anger about the policy of apartheid in South Africa by marching in a protest in December. During the presidential elections in November, L-S held its own mock election. The results were very close, with 52% of the school voting for Reagan and 48% for Mondale. In February, L-S teachers Thom Thacker and William Schecter created quite a scandal when they designed an alternate to the book covers distributed in the school by the Army National Guard. Thacker and Schecter thought the original covers were false propaganda and their cover emphasized that being in the National Guard means killing people. Upon seeing the new covers, the National Guard representative became irate and ordered that they be removed. Schecter and Thacker objected that the covers were private property and could not be seized. This conflict received much media coverage and has yet to be completely resolved.

Lincoln

In Lincoln this year, the town celebrated the centennial of the Public Library with many gala events, including a formal ball. In town politics, a major controversy arose over the closing of Winter Street. People petitioned to close the road because of a traffic problem that would result when the construction of a large industrial part on the Waltham-Lincoln border was completed. In January, Cabbage Patch dolls were banned from the Lincoln Public Elementary schools, because children were forming exclusive clubs solely for the owners of Cabbage Patch dolls.

Massachusetts

Local politics was often in the news this year, with the mayoral election race proving to be one of the most exciting in years. In the end, however, Ray Flynn triumphed over the first black mayoral candidate in Boston's history, Mel King. Shortly after his inauguration, Mayor Flynn and Governor Michael Dukakis, in an effort to crack down on drunk-driving, put an end to Happy Hours in the bars throughout the Boston area. Also in the news this year were the race riots this summer in Lawrence and the court trial of several Portuguese men who had raped a woman in Big Dan's Bar in Revere. Local politics received a hard blow when an immense arson ring was discovered involving officials in both the police and fire departments. State residents also were very concerned with state ecological problems, especially acid rain and the disposal of industrial wastes.

September

As students settle into the routine of another school year, Prime Minister John Turner of Canada is unseated by more conservative leader, Brian Mulroney.

Students are already in need of vacation by the end of September to ease the academic pressure. In South Africa, natives attempt to pressure their government into reform. Riots continue with the election of P.W. Botha, Apartheid advocate, as executive president. Later, L-S students will march in opposition of apartheid.

December

As Christmas vacation approaches and many plan to board airplanes and head for warm places, Kuwait Airline Flight 221 is seized. Four people are killed and three Americans describe the merciless beatings they were subjected to. Iranian intervention brings an end to the hostages' captivity, and saves this potential disaster from becoming a crisis of greater proportion.

Union Carbide, who in the past has sponsored trips to Washington, D.C. for L-S students, faces heated controversy when a deadly gas leak kills over 2,500 people in Bhopal, India. The giant chemical company is accused of dangerous operating procedures.

October

Seniors begin to feel the heat for preparing early admission college applications. We had it lucky though. Britain's Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher really felt the heat when her hotel was bombed by I.R.A. terrorists. Although Thatcher miraculously escaped unhurt, four people were killed, and 34 were injured. This was just one of a rash of I.R.A. terrorist attacks in England.

In the Philippines, news leaks concerning the assassination of Opposition Leader Benigno Aquino result in fingerpointing at the military government of Marcos. So far, the Student Senate has avoided such controversy.

November

The shock of many's quarter grades is exceeded only by the sorrow felt at the loss of India's Prime Minister, Indira Ghandi, who was assassinated by Sikh soldiers. Mrs. Ghandi is succeeded by her son, Rajiv, whose leadership abilities are still questioned. In the aftermath of the shooting, mobs attack Sikhs in mourning for their beloved leader.

Halfway around the world, the Sandonistas experience an easy victory in Nicaraguan elections. As we give thanks for our good fortune, news of famine in Ethiopia arrives. Major campaigns to be carried on throughout the holiday season begin.

February

S M T W TH F S

Perhaps the greatest controversy to hit L-S this year is that of the alternate book cover. History teachers William Schechter and Thomas Thacker publish a cover illustrating the horrors of war in response to another cover produced by the Army National Guard glorifying military service. Thacker and Schechter appear in The Boston Globe and spread their message of peace. At the same time, the Pope travels through the war torn countries of South America. His presence in this volatile area is cherished by the predominantly Catholic community. The Pope speaks out against abortion, and reaffirms the hierachial organizations of the Roman Catholic Church.

Medicine and Science

An anonymous baby girl, nicknamed "Baby Fae" by the press, became the first recipient of a cross-species heart transplant. Baby Fae, who was suffering from a condition which left the left side of her heart severely underdeveloped, received the heart of a young baboon. Just when she seemed on the verge of a complete recovery, her body rejected the heart and she died at the age of only 1 month old. This transplant was much protested by animal protectionists and religious leaders as cruel and unnatural.

The Nobel Prize for Medicine was won by Cesar Milstein and Georges Kohler. These men fused a rapidly-reproducing tumor cell and a cell that produces antibodies to produce a cell that manufactures mass quantities of a given antibody.

The Nobel Prize for Chemistry went to R. Bruce Merrifield for his work in automating a process that synthesizes complex proteins.

The Nobel Prize for Physics this year was won by Carlo Rubbia and Simon Van der Meer. They developed a theory that links the four forces of nature: electromagnetic force, gravity, the strong force (which binds particles in a nucleus) and the weak force (which controls radioactive decay).

William Schroeder becomes the second person to receive a completely artificial heart. The Jarvik 7 heart was implanted in Schroeder by Dr. William DeVries in December of 1984. Schroeder recovered well, but suffered a small but severe stroke two weeks after the operation. His recovery after this setback was slow, but at last report he was doing well.

New hope appears for those suffering from AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome), as doctors discover and isolate a virus that is closely linked with the appearance of the fatal disease.

Astronomers discovered a possible other solar system. Pictures of the star Beta Pictoris (which is 293 trillion miles from our sun) reveal that it is surrounded by a disc of gas and solid particles, which scientists believe to be signs of new planets in formation. Also in astronomy this year, astronomers had their first clear view of Uranus' rings.

Divers recovered a 3400-year-old sailing vessel from the Mediterranean Sea. The ship, which dates from King Tut's time, yielded a rich trove of Bronze Age artifacts.

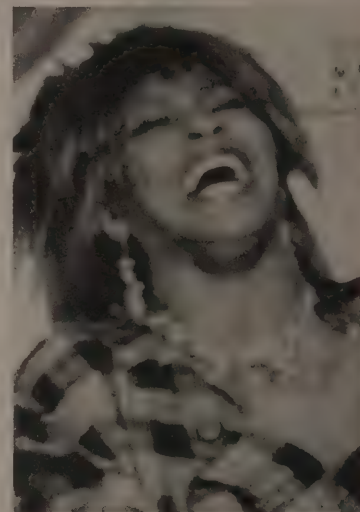

In the first salvage mission of its kind, the space shuttle Discovery recovered two satellites from their eccentric and potentially dangerous orbits and brought them back to Earth.

That's Entertainment

Music

The year of 1984-1985 has been a year of comebacks for many stars.

The Boss, Bruce Springsteen, came out with his phenomenally successful Born in the USA album and concert tour. "Dancin' in the Dark" off that album was one of the top songs of the year. The biggest comeback of the year was Tina Turner's, with her hit album, Private Dancer, featuring her first big solo hits, "What's Love Got to Do With It" and "Good to Me." Enjoying continuing success this year was Lionel Richie with the release of his Can't Slow Down album. Such songs as "Hello" and "All Night Long" will continue to be favorites for years to come. Van Halen made it big with its most popular album by far, 1984. The hit songs "Jump," "Panama", and "Hot for Teacher" were some of the many popular songs on that album. Huey Lewis and the News contributed to the music scene with their album, Sports. Their songs "Heart and Soul," "I Wanna New Drug", and "If This is It" also blossomed into popular videos. And we mustn't forget Boston's own Cars, whose album, Heartbreak City, was a huge success. Making a debut this year was Prince, who surprised the world with his highly acclaimed movie and soundtrack, Purple Rain. Prince showed his diverse musical abilities in his number one hits, "Purple Rain", "Let's Go Crazy", and "When Doves Cry." Two of music's hottest new stars were Cyndi Lauper with her Girls Just Wanna Have Fun album and Madonna with her hits, "Lucky Star" and "Like a Virgin."

Television

The year in television has been one of rising popularity for the nighttime soap operas. "Dallas", "Dynasty", "Knot's Landing", and "Falcon Crest" are old favorites, with newcomers "Paper Dolls" and "Berrenger's" gaining popularity fast. Daytime soaps are still quite popular with "All My Children" and "General Hospital" leading the way. This was the year of the detective shows. The return of such shows as "Cagney and Lacey" and "Remington Steele" was well received and new shows such as "Miami Vice", "McGruder and Loud", and "Hardcastle and McCormack" were successful as well. Sit-coms continue to be popular, with the shows "Double Trouble", "It's Your Move", and "The Cosby Show" premiering. Music videos were the newcomers to television this year. Video shows such as "Hot Hit Video" and "Friday Night Videos" enjoyed much popularity. Boston's own Cars had many hit videos such as the award-winning "Drive" and "You Might Think". A trend in videos this year was having Hollywood's biggest stars make cameo appearances in videos, such as in Ray Parker, Jr.'s "Ghostbusters" video and Billy Joel's "Uptown Girl" and "Tell Her About It" videos.

ONE

ADMIT

Movies

This has been a big year for the movie industry. Popular comedians Bill Murray, Dan Ackroyd, and Eddie Murphy led the way in hit movies. Murray and Ackroyd starred in the summer box office smash, "Ghostbusters". The ever-popular Eddie Murphy starred in "Beverly Hills Cop", another moneymaker. The movie, "Purple Rain", showed the many abilities of musical star, Prince; he proved to be a fine musician, vocalist and actor. This movie also introduced us to two new musical groups, Appollonia 6 and The Time. This was also the year of the cult movies "Repo Man", "Liquid Sky", and the Talking Heads' "Stop Making Sense". Dancing was a popular theme for movies, highlighting breakdancing in "Breakin" and the history of dance in "That's Dancing".

Local Entertainment

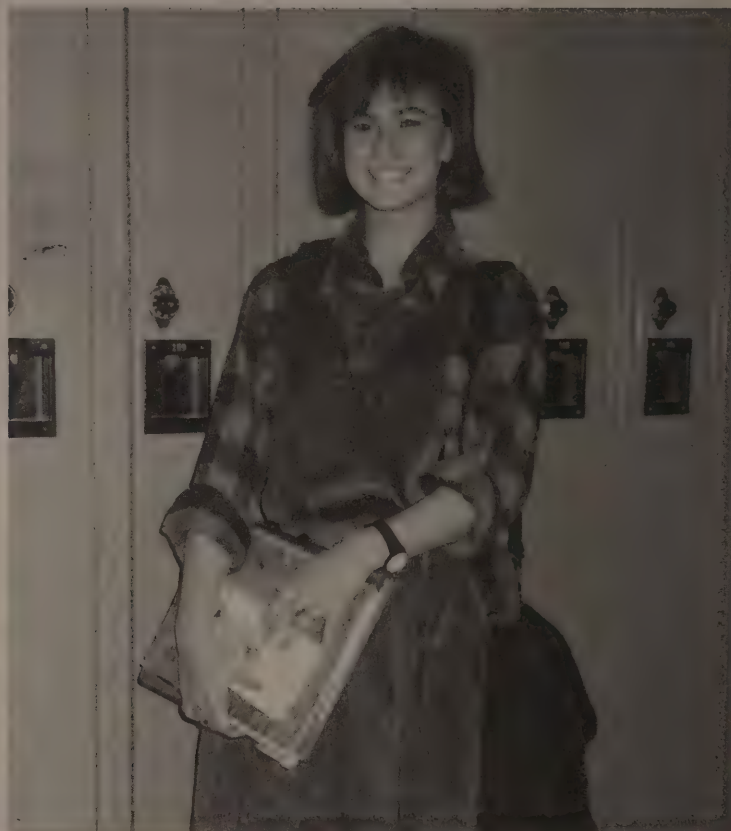

On a Friday or Saturday night, you will find L-S students attending school sporting events and local movies, or hanging out on Rte. 9 in Natick. McDonald's is somewhat of a tradition for L-S students. Going there on a free is a good alternative to the cafeteria's food. Pizza, an ever-popular food amongst high school students, is enjoyed at the new Sudbury Papa Gino's. And, lest we forget, we will mention that on any given day you are likely to see a boothful of L-S students in the local Friendly's, a favorite for late-night eating.

Clothes Make the Man

A Look at the Fashions of '84-'85

Right: Cropped pants were the style this year, like those worn by Laura Fagin.

Far Right: Faryl Rubin models a current style in dresses, the jumper.

Left: Denim became a very versatile fabric; it was worn dyed or stone-washed, as in the jeans and miniskirt of Jenny Pollock (L) and Rebecca Cocco

Below: Shorter hemlines were the style this year, as in this minidress worn by Cindy Cobuzzi

Above: Patrice Reiling (L) and Jill Horton demonstrate that V-necks were popular in both vests and sweaters, and were worn with dressy as well as with casual clothes.

The Wide World Of Sports

SUMMER OLYMPICS

At first it appeared that the Olympic games were going to be a failure. The Soviets had announced their boycott of the Olympics, complaining about the lack of security. However, the spirit of the games could not be crushed. Peter Uberoth, chairman of the Olympic Committee, made the games a success, and later became the Man of the Year for Time Magazine. The U.S. dominated the games in track and field. Carl Lewis ran away with four gold medals in the long jump, 100 meter, 200 meter, and relay races. Edwin Moses was victorious in the 400 meter hurdles, which brought him the title of Sportsman of the Year. The U.S. women were also strong in track and field. Evelyn Ashford broke an Olympic record in the 100 meter race. Joan Benoit outlasted the competition to win the first women's marathon. Valerie Brisco-Hooks ran her way to 3 gold medals. The most dramatic, but unfortunate, event occurred in the women's 3000 meter race when Mary Decker (U.S.) was tripped by Zola Budd (G.B.). Decker was a favorite in that race. In gymnastics, Mary Lou Retton captured the gold with tens in the floor exercise and in the vault. The U.S. men's team won the team competition. Peter Vidmar (U.S.) missed the gold medal in the all-around competition by .25 of a point. The U.S. also dominated swimming. Doug Louganis dove for two gold medals. The U.S. had 9 out of 13 decisive victories in boxing, which had always been a strength of the U.S.

BASEBALL

A big summer for sports was followed by American's classic World Series. The Detroit Tigers took this crown, which was rightfully theirs. They started the season with a 25 and 3 record and never looked back. They faced a feisty San Diego Padres team in the Series, but were able to overcome them and take the title.

BASKETBALL

After defeating the L.A. Lakers in a spectacular final series, the Celtics began the season as reigning champs. In their first confrontation with arch rivals 76ers, superstars Larry Bird and Julius Erving got into a shoving match. In their next meeting, the two men shook hands to make up for their uncharacteristic start.

The Celtics made one major change this year when they traded Gerald Henderson, but Danny Ainge filled in well, and with a 41 and 9 record at the all-star break, they appeared to be on their way to another great season.

FOOTBALL

Many names stand out when one mentions the '84-'85 season. Dan Marino, only 23 years old and 2 years out of college, led the Miami Dolphins to a 14 and 2 record, and a trip to the Super Bowl. He also broke every passing record in the book. Although they lost to the San Francisco 49ers in the Super Bowl, Marino will most likely appear there again. The 49er franchise was the most balanced and talented team in many years. They led the league with a 15 and 1 record, and crushed every team on their way to winning their second Super Bowl in 4 years. In the college ranks, a sensational young quarterback from Boston College stole the hearts of fans everywhere. Doug Flutie, winner of the Heisman Trophy, broke the all-time passing and total yardage records in his fabulous senior year in college. He gained more than 10,000 yards over his 4 collegic years in each category. He led the Eagles to a 9 and 2 record plus a Cotton Bowl victory over the Houston Cougars. To end his college career, he signed a multi-million contract with the New Jersey Generals of the USFL. No matter how he fares in the pros, he will always be remembered as Boston's "Little Big Man" who gave sports-fans a big thrill for 4 years.

TENNIS

This year the pros were at their finest. Jimmy Connors was back to his winning self, having strong outings in the U.S. Open and at Wimbledon, and earning a #1 ranking. No one had come close to John McEnroe, though. He dominated tennis this year, indoors and out. Martina Navratilova was also unstoppable, until she was ousted by Hana Mandlikova in the semi-finals of the Australian Open. Number two ranked Chris Evert Lloyd went on to win that tournament. Soon after, Evert Lloyd beat Navratilova in the Virginia Slims finals in Florida. Evert Lloyd appeared to get it back together this year.

L-S has never been known for its outward display of school spirit. Rather we have opted for the more subtle "Lincoln-Sudbury pride." This year's fall sports bon-fire/pep rally proved to be a rekindling of that somewhat nebulous sense of spirit. This was a community effort and we thank all those involved.

Sweet sounds of success were enjoyed at a variety of events this year. The Concert Band, directed by Daniel Riley, played at the annual Homecoming Concert, "Springthing", as well as on a tour of the area junior high schools.

Student involvement brought exceptional results. Three members (Seniors Scott Mitchell and Adam Smith and Freshman Henry Spindler) were represented in the All-State Jazz Band. Experimenting with the conductor's wand was another student activity. And the band played on . . .

Hitting those high notes

A chorus is a chorus, right? Not so! Both Women's and Special Chorus are different in structure and intent. In her first year of direction, Jan Bennett led the Women's Chorus to a year of beautiful concerts. Some concert locales included the Garner Museum, Faneuil Hall and the Wayside Inn. With an ample supply of soloists, many of this year's pieces were solos.

The Special Chorus is smaller yet effective group. Many of the pieces sung were Madrigals and other Renaissance type music. The Pierce House in Lincoln and the Goodnow Library in Sudbury found themselves filled with the powerful voices directed by Dean Aldrich.

The December concert featured works of Handel, Bizet and Prokofiev. Through the hard work of the new conductor and the orchestra, it was a success.

as you read this, drunk drivers in the United States will kill seventy people and injure two thousand one hundred and fifty. Founded in 1982, the L-S chapter has tried each year to raise students' level of awareness to the idea of driving responsibly and the hazards of not doing so. This year, we are planning to give presentations in classrooms, write articles for the newspapers, videotape interviews, have spot announcements on the radio (W.Y.A.J.), and organize an annual S.A.D.D. day. We're trying to save teenage lives and the lives of others. Our motto is: Friends don't let friends drive drunk.

This is an organization that is extremely concerned with the large number of deaths and accidents that have been caused by people who drive while drunk. Today,

In its second year, the Lincoln-Sudbury STOP chapter, has sought active approaches to educate people about the nuclear arms race dilemma. The year's first project was a collaboration with ABHS STOP chapter for a public debate in Acton. The L-S members were prompted to bring the issue home, so to speak, and thus; the first school-wide debate on this emotional issue.

Although the showing of the movie, "The Atomic Cafe," and distribution of pamphlets does not directly solve the issue, it does break apathy.

Remember folks: if you really want to go to that college you've worked so hard for, make sure it'll still be there next year ...

A Day of Controversy

The possibility of nuclear war is ever present. The LS S.T.O.P. organization sponsored a debate concerning the issue. Their intent was to educate and raise awareness level with the presentation of two opposing views. Dr. Les Schwab representing Doctors for Social Responsibilities, supported a freeze. His counter part, Ret. Gen. Gary Hartel, from Peace Through Strength, considered the freeze impossible. Both sides presented provoking facts.

The Student Senate is an organization that provides communication between the students and the administration. An example of this is the Student Outreach Committee, which gives students a chance to meet informally with two members of the school comm. and discuss ideas, concerns, etc. The Senate also sponsors service projects such as the American Red Cross Blood Drive and the donating of money to Oxfam America.

A HEARTBREAKER OF A SEASON

This was a year of heartbreaks and tough breaks for the L-S Boys' Varsity Soccer Team. The season started off on a promising path, with wins over Belmont and Masconomet in pre-season, and regular season wins over Somerville and Boston Latin. However, a combination of injuries, inexperience, and bad breaks hurt the team for the remainder of the season. Combined with a tough Dual County League schedule, this was not Varsity's year.

Although the team finished with a 3-7-3 record, the team pulled together in the final three games. A heartbreaking 1-0 loss to Weston summed up the season, a disappointment. Better luck next year.

Another D.C.L. title for the L-S J.V. Boys' Soccer Team. In the shadow of a gloomy Varsity season the J.V. team proved its ability to work well as a team, by posting a 11-1-2 record. In the beginning there were doubts, said Coach Burke. "We don't have much raw talent as in past years; we'll just have to work harder as a team." And work hard they did. The strong defense worked hard to keep the ball in L-S' favor, and enabled the offense to be a constant threat to the opposing defense. The teamwork that each member of the team displayed helped the team to become co-champs with Acton-Boxborough.

At the start of the 1984 season, Coach Norm Swicker knew that his young team would win more games than they would lose. Led by Co-Captains, Dale Arpino and Chris Gates, the team did better than expected. The season began with two big wins against Wayland and arch-rival Concord-Carlisle. They continued to win through the first half of the season, facing tougher than expected opponents. An injury-plagued team faced C-C, to begin the second half of the season. Though it was an exciting game, the Warriors came up with a 0-0 tie. This put the Warriors in first place, however, only by one point. The Warriors were forced into a situation where a loss to any league team would cost the title. They won the next three games. The last game, however, was a frustrating one against Newton-South, that ended in a 0-0 tie. This meant that L-S would share the title with C-C. When Coach Swicker looked back, though, he was proud of a team that wasn't supposed to be very powerful, but won the first D.C.L. title in the history of L-S Varsity Girls Soccer, with a league record of 9-0-3. The team then played a post-season game against Wellesley. It was the Warriors best game of the season, but lost a very even game 1-0. L-S proceeded to enter the M.I.A.A. Division 1 tournament, playing Needham. Needham had the last goal, bettering the Warriors 3-2. This ended a very successful season with a record of 9-2-3.

UNDEFEATED!!!

The Girls J.V. Soccer Team had an excellent 1984 season, and a perfect record. The Warriors faced tough league opponents, such as Wayland, Concord, and Bedford. Despite the fierce competition, the Warriors finished undefeated. The demanding physical conditioning and the talented players allowed Coach Michelle Boisevert to win the D.C.L. title. There was a natural enthusiasm and desire to win that made this team special. Even when injuries limited the roster, and players were moved up to Varsity, the team hung in there, and won every game. A J.V. team is usually in the shadow of its varsity team, but this team still managed to shine. A great record was complimented by a lot of fun and laughter, which made for a truly outstanding season.

The 1984 Varsity Football Cheerleading Squad got off to a good start this year with the help of advisors, Giselle Sampson and Rosemary Colson. The squad helped to stimulate school spirit with the bonfire pep rally the night before the Newton-South game. They also put a lot of time and effort into activities such as decorating the players' lockers, making signs for the game, and developing new cheers. This year's squad was helped by the experience of Seniors Terry Ward, Captain Regina Terry, and Captain Susan Bowers. Some new ideas came from Juniors Melissa Bradley, Jodi Mullen, Laurie Pietz, Jenny Pollock, Faryl Rubin, and Katie Sampson. Sophomore Anetta Amelia added a new sparkle to the squad. All in all, it was an excellent season and everyone agreed it had been a lot of fun.

D.C.L. Champs!!

The Lincoln-Sudbury J.V. Football team went 5-1-1 overall and 4-0-1 in the D.C.L. this season. They were the champs by just edging out Acton-Boxboro. There were many talented members on the team who will add strength to next years Varsity team, and bring the title up with them provided all goes well.

Urgh! They Almost Had It

1984 was an exceptional year for the Warrior Varsity Football team which ended with a record of 8-2 overall and 4-2 in the D.C.L. They not only tied the record for the most number of wins in a season, but also made school history by becoming the first team to begin a season with four consecutive wins. The D.C.L. proved to be one of the toughest leagues in eastern Mass. This year and as a result L-S could not clinch the title, but instead had to settle for third place. Nevertheless, the team was a strong contender for the Division 3 Superbowl, reaching the #1 spot in the Globe's ranking at one point.

The Warriors had great leadership in the co-captains Todd Burke and Mike DeFranco. As quarterback, Burke surpassed all expectations (of coaches and fans) by breaking the school's passing records. DeFranco, a split end and Burke's main target, broke the school's all-time receiving records. Both the athletic and leadership abilities of each captain provided much toward the success of the season.

The explosive offense also set a new school record by accumulating a total of 233 points. The team's place kicker, senior Chris Siepietowski, set yet another record with 22 extra point kicks. The offensive line was led by seniors Todd Richardson and Charles Wilson, while seniors Nigel Drakes, the team's leading rusher and scorer, and Ed McDonald provided leadership in the backfield.

Defensively the Warriors played tough as seniors Brian Stenberg, Charles Wilson and Lee Oviau maintained control along the line. DeFranco and senior Donald Craft led the defensive secondary. Other seniors who contributed to the team were Chris Solo, Jon Foster and Bob Colburn.

Much credit for the successful season must go to head coach Tom Lopez and his assistants Mike Graceffa and Gary Justasin for their tremendous efforts and dedication to the program.

Overall the team worked well together as a unit due to good relationships among the players. The outlook for next year is very optimistic as a score of this years juniors, who have shown exceptional talent and potential, will provide the foundation and leadership for next year's team. It was an excellent season for all, especially the seniors, who ended their high school football careers on such a good note.

The 6-6-2 record of the Varsity Field Hockey Team doesn't do justice to the season the Warriors had. The Warriors never lost a game by more than three points, many of which were one point losses. They also touched the other extreme by beating opponents by as much as twelve points. The competition was tough, and Coach Leslie Belcher prepared her team to meet the challenge. Midway through the season, when the team was competing for third place in the D.C.L., an unfortunate win-loss pattern developed. For every game the Warriors won, they lost one. This pattern placed the team fourth in the league. This is not to say, however, that the three teams ahead of them had an easy time of playing L-S. As a matter of fact, when L-S met their two rivals, Acton and Weston, for the second time, a highly motivated Warrior squad almost beat both teams. Acton and Weston were lucky to escape with 1-0 wins. These two games demonstrated the quality of play that the Field Hockey Team is capable of performing. As the team was mostly seniors, there will be many slots for younger players to move into to keep the performance going.

SWIMMERS TAKE YOUR MARKS

This year the Swim Team had a record of 4-6. This improvement over past years is due to a lot of new talent and returning experience. This year the Swim Team is one of the largest teams ever, having 25 members. Mrs. Stewart coached the swimmers, trying to shave seconds off their times. Becky Stewart and Joanne Dreher were the captains that served as role models for the rest of the team. The Warriors put a lot of hard work and energy into their season, and got good results. Dana Guthrie placed ninth in the State in the Breaststroke. The whole team's efforts were paid off in good times, fun, and laughter.

VOLLEYGIRLS, FER SURE!

The 1984 Volleyball season drew to a close with their last game against Boston Latin. Despite their 0-17 record, the team had a satisfying season. One of the most satisfying aspects of the season was the amount of improvement from the first day of practice to the last game. Many players had never touched a volleyball before the season began, but never stopped improving as the season progressed. These young players were guided by the experience of returning players. The encouragement of the new coach, Andy Daigle, has helped all the players add new skills to their game. Coach Daigle also plans to stay with the Warriors. A rapid turnover of volleyball coaches has been a problem in the past. Coach Daigle feels he will be able to build a solid program from this young team. The 1984 Volleyball team is graduating five seniors: Heather Brownlee, Marcelle De Luca, Jill Gibson, Captain Britta Heuer, and Kathleen Lee.

This year the Lincoln-Sudbury Boys Cross Country Team tied for second place in the D.C.L. with a record of 6-2. It was not until the victory over the alleged number one team, Boston Latin, that the annual words of Coach Pat McMahon seemed likely to come true: "This is your year, boys. We have a chance to clinch the D.C.L. title." Team spirit and the number of cross-country fans grew each week. With just two meets left in the season, our record was 6-0. The "pressure was on." Due to Bedford's defeat of Lincoln-

Sudbury, in the second to last meet, the team would have to share the league title. In the final week of running, two valuable runners from L-S suffered injuries. The team was defeated again in the final meet. Despite the final two losses, the team's record was one of the best ever seen at Lincoln-Sudbury.

The Boys Track Team started 1985 on the right foot. They had no problems upholding the reputation set by last year's team. Coach Pat McMahon said that, "This is the best team in Lincoln Sudbury's history!" L-S placed third overall in the Boys State Coaches Invitational Track Meet in which over 114 teams participated. They received points by winning the Mile relay (Dunham, Cannon, Wirtzburger and Surwillo) with a time of 3:30, breaking the school record by nine seconds and just missing the state record. Bryan Cannon tied for first in the 600 yd. and was clocked at an unexpected 1:14 to better the school record. The only time L-S had any competition was at the State Meet. No other team in the D.C.L. could match L-S talent which spread over a number of events. The team easily defended its Dual County League Title and strived for the State Title.

The 1984-5 Girls Winter Track Team had an outstanding year. Led by Captains Eileen Smith and Pat Lane and Nancy Wollins, the team had its best finish ever in the D.C.L. The second place team had a league record of 5-1-1, with a few non-league meets yet to be run. Capturing second place was due mainly to the talented incoming freshman trackees. A combination of sprinters, long-distance, and the shotputters really made the team score high. Outstanding freshmen include Karen Arpino, Rita Raju, Stephanie Lind, Chantel Casey and Celestine Klein. Some of these freshmen attended the state coaches meet at Harvard earlier in the season. This experience will help the team gear up for the State meet. The coach, Eileen Murphy, is very excited about her winning. She thinks one reason the team did so well was the support the teammates supplied one another, at practices and meets. Coach Murphy sees a lot of talent for the next few years, and feels that this year was only the beginning. The success of these girls can only draw more girls to practice in the halls of L-S and rise early on Saturday mornings for the meets. Who knows? With the added success of the boys, maybe L-S will be the next school to have a field house for these girls who are running for their school.

Tourney Bound!

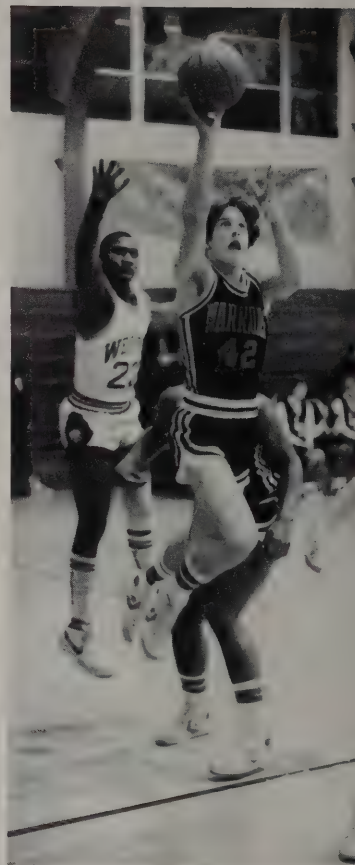

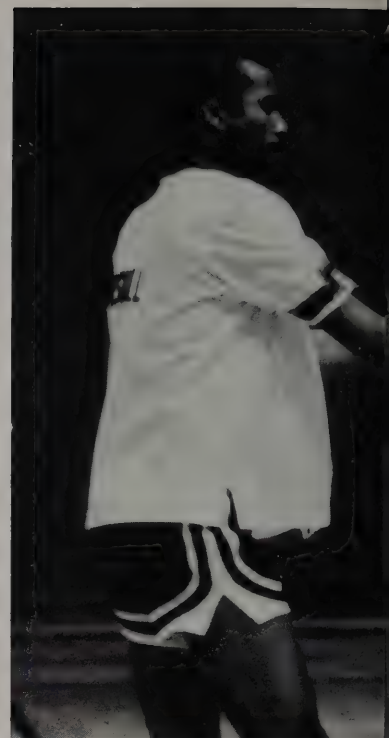

This year's Varsity Boys' Basketball Team clinched a spot in the State Tournament for the first time since the 78-79 season. Despite a slow start (4-3 overall, 0-2 D.C.L.), the team finished strong to qualify for the tournament, and at one point contended for the league title. In the middle of the season, L-S ran off a string of 6 wins and then faced Boston Latin in a battle for the title. The game was a typical D.C.L. contest; hard fought with many lead changes. Although the score favored Latin, L-S had proven that it could be a challenge for anyone in the league. Although the team lost its chance at a league championship, the overall season was a success, with major wins over Boston Tech and D.C.L. foe, Wayland. This year the team was led by Tri-captains Craig Carter, Donald Craft & Joe Gazza. Although the team had only 4 seniors, it has ample varsity experience with Wayman Smith and Joe Sims returning from last year's squad. With the addition of David Sayles, Jim Devaney, Tom Swank, Derek Allerton and Mike Isenberg from last year's J.V. team, the average height of the team exceeded any other recent L-S team. Newcomer Mark Straubel's playing ability and size fit in well with the team. Rodney Marshall had a strong second varsity season as guard.

At the beginning of the season, Coach George Horton said to the team, "You've got to show me," and this year's team did just that.

Jackson Browne's song was one that really captured the essence of the Girls Varsity Basketball Team this season. Coming off a D.C.L. championship last year, the coach had billed the 1984-85 season as a rebuilding year. The year turned out to be a frustrating and disappointing one. If only they had been allowed to play longer, they could have pulled out some of the many close games. There were a lot of close games due to all the long practicing. All the hard work didn't pay off as much as it did last year, but the improvement was key. The team gained experience by playing in the tournament at Becker Jr. College, where many of the best teams in the state played, including Brookline. The improvement continued throughout the season, as the scores became closer and closer. The best example was when the team beat Weston after losing to them only a few weeks earlier. It was a game where everything came together for all four quarters. Only winning a few games, the team didn't qualify for the State Tournament. This, however, doesn't reflect the effort and improvement of the 1984-5 Girls' Varsity Basketball team.

To the 1984-85 Girls Gymnastics Team:

The season had started in November.

A time which we will always remember.

Our new coach was "Mr. Duse", when he was easy on us we took a snooze.

Then he yelled, but we didn't mind, 'Cause we had to work hard all the time.

We're glad our Maura was not mean,

Willing to help with a new routine. Injuries came, but also gain, And Maura was there to help the pain.

Duse and Maura made our pain much less, Which helped us all to be a success.

Tommy Tommy, he's no nicks, He helped us fix our tricks. With the incoming freshmen team, Much potential could be seen. The upperclassmen came back again,

Working hard and practicing to the end.

We went to the meets ready to fight, And competed with all our might.

Always got compliments from the boys,

But we usually took it rather mean. With rips, tears, breaks and bruise, This is the fate we will always choose.

We lost some meets and won some too,

And love of gymnastics we'll never lose.

MacDonalds was the place we stopped,

And the Secret Santas were really tops.

We wish good luck for the teams to come,

And hope the family tie continues.

A few last words we must make

Are go for it and never brake!

Keep your spirits rising high, Not down with cookies, cakes or pies.

Love always,
Steph & Lynn
